

SuperWifi Combines Extended Range with Quick and Simplified Deployment for Campground Wireless Access

RV sales across the US are sky-rocketing and families are turning more and more to camping as a safe escape from the Covid-induced restrictions on vacation travel. And, like everyone these days, campers expect high quality wireless connectivity. After all, there's nothing better than Netflix and popcorn after a long day of fishing and hiking.

Krysp Wireless offers Altai Technologies' SuperWifi product line with out-of-the-box, deployment and unequal range of up to a mile making it an ideal solution for campgrounds and RV parks.

Altai's SuperWifi base stations have built-in antennas and an easy-to-master network management solution for fast installation, provisioning ongoing management.
